Jaggery has proven its importance not only now, but it is a part of Indian culture since ages. Indian festivals are incomplete without a sweet made from Jaggery and offered to Gods. We will emphasis more on the extraction process till the end product is achieved as we progress further.

Jaggery is nothing but sugarcane juice cooked till the right consistency is achieved every Manufacturing Company has their own process so do we.

At Mahaveer we have seven Jaggery processing units where quality is considered as top priority, as Non-Chemical Jaggery is produced here under our brand name of 'MAHAVEER & RISHABH'. Kolhapur is well known for it's reputation in producing world class sugarcane because of its rich nutrition in fertile land. This helps in removing the impurities to the maximum extent while producing the Jaggery. The traditional Jaggery blenders blend it in a specialized way to give it its signature light red-brown colour.

Similarly the chemically processed Jaggery is light in colour and is mostly known as traditional Kolhapur Jaggery. A few amounts of edible chemicals approved by the food industry are added to it so that it gives a better sweetness. The chemical Jaggery is available in the packs of 250gms, 500gms, 1kg, 5kg, 10 kgs and 30kgs.

Jaggery is a traditional sweetener made by evaporating sugarcane juice without separating the molasses from the crystals. It is softer than the refined sugar, varying in colour from yellow to dark brown. Compared to the nutritional value of white sugar Jaggery is richer in micro nutrients like potassium, magnesium, phosphorus, iron and calcium. Organic jaggery powder has a richer taste as compared to refined sugar.

Benefits of organic Jaggery

A lot being said and done apart from loading your body with chemicals, consumption of organic jaggery also has various health benefits;

1. Jaggey helps generate heat inside the body and boosts immunity.
2. Prevents constipation and enhances the production of digestive enzymes.
3. Helps in preventing joint pain and eases menstrual cramps.
4. Detoxifies the body.
